The Hopkins Society exists to celebrate Gerard Manley Hopkins' life and work. We hold meetings twice a year in varied formats - poetry readings, performance workshops, the annual Hopkins Lecture, visits and walks to places influential in his life and work. We also produce an annual journal.

We have an historic association with St Beuno's Centre for Ignatian Spirituality in North Wales, the Jesuit house where Hopkins spent some of his happiest time as a Jesuit, but our membership and meetings span the UK.

We always welcome new members. Please consult our website for forthcoming activities.
